Search the UniTasterDays database of university events for your school groups - including online opportunities

You will usually start on the event search webpage. Here, you will browse events already listed by universities. If you type in your school name, these listings will be specific to your institution.

The image shows a search form with the following fields: Suitability (Any), Subject (Any), Location (Nationwic), from (POSTCODE), Keywords, Institution (Any), and Type (Any). There is a green button labeled 'Show online events only' with a toggle switch, and two buttons labeled 'Search' and 'Reset'.

Events include university and college taster days, workshops, residential events, open days, outreach events and widening participation opportunities added by universities UK-wide. Everything from a Business Masterclass for your year 9's, through to a Fees and Finance workshop for your Year 12's!

Whilst most events will be for school groups, events are also listed for students too. So do pass the details on to your students as well.

Request events directly from universities

If you can't find an event on the main search pages to meet your needs, you can also request an event delivered by a university.

You just need to add the details to one simple request an event form which is then sent to the universities you select.

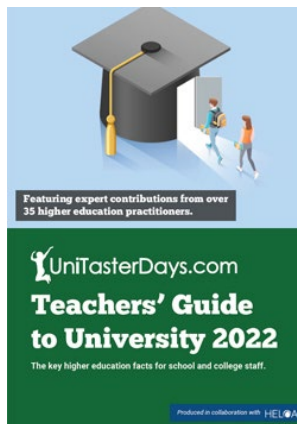

This can be used for any type of event you have in mind - including subject specific events, careers fair invitations and general university visits into school (or to a university).

Register for the events-by-email newsletter

Join thousands of school colleagues who have registered for the events-by-email newsletter for regular university event updates for you and your students.

You'll also receive an electronic Teachers' Guide to University brochure when you register.

How schools and colleges can support students transitioning from Year 11 to further education

Fair Access | Widening Participation | Building Links |

Through working with sixth forms and colleges, my team and I have identified a gap in support for Year 11 students taking their next steps to transition from school into further education. Here, I have compiled a list of key ways you can support students when making this transition.

How schools can support underrepresented students to progress to selective universities

Fair Access | Widening Participation | CPD |

As educators, we all aim to ensure that students can make informed decisions on their future and access competitive university places based on merit and potential. Whilst these objectives drive us more than ever, delivering on these goals can be challenging. This blog outlines how you can help.

Watch university webinars and on-demand event recordings

These videos have one key aim. To support students who are considering university to make informed future decisions. They feature guest speakers from a range of different universities, who are always experts in the subject they are speaking about.

The content is always impartial and topics range from the general content students will find useful – like how to write personal statements, student finance and UCAS applications. As well as the UK's first video subject guide to help students choose university subjects.
