We make university-learning fun and engaging for your school groups

Workshops are available for groups of up to 40 students – and are offered for students in year groups ranging from Year 7, right through to Year 13. They can be delivered as one-off interventions, or as part of a year-long school aspiration raising project. We can also deliver to full year groups, but smaller sessions are recommended for maximum interactivity and impact.

Sessions are designed to engage students and can include interactive games and group exercises throughout, using interactive technology such as voting clickers.

The exercises and content are created bespoke for each year group, and generally include university courses and applications, student life, making university-ready option choices, personal statements and university fees and finance.

Online delivery also available

Workshops are also offered online - and all the major delivery platforms are supported. Including Google, Microsoft Teams and Zoom.

“ An engaging session which kept the students interested and increased awareness of a number of issues. Well organised and thoroughly professional. St Andrew’s CE High School for Boys, Worthing ”

What do students say? Feedback includes:*

- ☒ “It was great”
- ☒ “A superb presenter – he deserves a raise”
- ☒ “The session completely changed my view on university”
- ☒ “It was fun!”
- ☒ “Really helpful and I learnt a lot”
- ☒ “Very useful and will really help in the future”

* school names removed as comments include pre-16 audiences.

Expert-delivery

All sessions will be facilitated by Jon Cheek, the Director of UniTasterDays Ltd. Jon has spent a career working in higher education, working for over ten years with three universities, followed by schools throughout the UK with UniTasterDays, which Jon started in 2012.

Jon has also sat as an Executive Director of the Higher Education External Relations Association and produced six Teachers' Guide to University brochures to date, as well as a Parents' Guide too. He has also been published by organisations including Which University and National Careers Week. Jon is a regular contributor for the CDI.

UniTasterDays is a Careers England Member organisation, an affiliate member of The Careers Development Institute and a collaborative partner of HELOA.
